

My Trip To St. Louis

We went to a museum in St. Louis in July with my mom and dad's friends. We saw lots of cool stuff like a 13 yards long slide, but it was enormous so we didn't go on it.

When we first walked in we heard lots of talking. And then we went in a cave, and my brother and his friend Blake got lost, but we soon found them. Then we went to an aquarium in the museum, I touched a baby turtle and a stingray! I was very excited about it.

Eventually we had to go back to the hotel, I was sad, but we soon fell asleep. The next morning we went to the museum again. This time we went on a giant hamster wheel. It was very hard and I kept on falling down! We also went in a little hallway with mirrors all around. It was really cool, but it kind of made me dizzy. Finally we had to go home. But it was the best day ever!!!
